Ancient and Real Communion: Part 3 — Reverence and Thanksgiving

When we gather at the Lord's Table, we are not simply remembering an event long past, nor merely sharing a symbolic meal. We are entering into a sacred mystery—an act where heaven and earth meet, and where Christ is truly, mysteriously and present among us. John Wesley called Communion a “means of grace”—that is, not just a reminder of grace, but a place where God provides us with grace. The risen Christ meets us in the bread and the cup. His Spirit makes present to us the reality of His body broken and His blood poured out, for the life of the world.

Therefore, we treat the elements, the bread and cup, with care and reverence. When you see me cover and uncover them with great care, it is not superstition, it is respect. We are acknowledging that this is not ordinary bread or wine. Once the elements have been set apart by prayer, consecrated for this holy act, they become holy, signs through which the presence of Christ is made known to us. The cloth that covers them reminds us of the sacred mystery—like the curtain in the Temple that once separated the holy from the common, now torn in two through Christ's sacrifice. When we handle the elements carefully, ensuring none are spilled or wasted, we testify that what God has made holy should be treated as holy. And when the service concludes, the remaining elements are not just thrown out, but consumed or returned to the earth, because even nature itself is drawn into God's redemptive work. As the psalmist declares, “The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it” (Psalm 24:1). All creation shares in the Lord's redemption.

Additionally, before we come to the Table, we confess our sins—not to earn our worthiness to receive them, but to recognize our need for them. Confession clears the way for communion, as our humble recognition opens the door for God's grace to be most effective.

As Paul cautioned the Corinthians, “Let a person examine himself, then, and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup” (1 Corinthians 11:28). This is not meant to be a barrier for us, but to remind us that the Table is a place for truth. When we come honestly, broken, repentant, and grateful we find that the same Lord who reveals our sin before us, also forgives our sin through His merciful sacrifice. And so, as we come to this holy meal, we do so with thanksgiving—which is what the word Eucharist means. The word Eucharist comes from the Greek eucharistia, meaning “thanksgiving.” It recalls the moment when Jesus “gave thanks” before breaking the bread at the Last Supper. “And he took bread, gave thanks (eucharistēsas), and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, ‘This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me’”(Luke 22:19). Therefore, Communion is a feast of gratitude. We thank God for the gift of His Son, for the grace that restores us, and for the promise of a Kingdom where we will one day sit with Christ at His table forever. As we approach Thanksgiving this month, may every meal remind us of this one—that all good gifts flow from the same Giver, and that every blessing finds its center in Jesus Christ. Glory to God, from whom all blessings flow. Amen.

Administrative Council Visioning Meetings are coming to a close

The Administrative Council has been meeting these past few months with its main goal being to create a 5-Year Plan through open visioning and creative thought. Members and some visitors have offered ideas and suggestions as to the direction that the ministry of NBMC should head in future years. All agreed that the next 5 years will be a time of transition in leadership and development.

Those present believed that it is important to prepare for the future in a rapidly changing world. This preparation would include examining facilities, staffing, equipment, programming and ministry. An outline has been prepared and should have been presented to our various committees during the month of October for additional input/discussion. Those contributions will then be brought back to the Administrative Council at November's meeting for inclusion and refinement. Soon thereafter, it is hoped, the results of the Council's "Visioning" will be presented to the congregation for additional input/discussion.

Please watch future Sunday Bulletins and/or Church Newsletters for more details about the presentation.

Thank you,
Tom Hallman

Finance Committee:

Thank you to the Fundraising committee for raising a little over $1,000 last month between the ham loaves sale and providing the dinner for the Zeta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma. This additional funding will support our programs and outreach. Thank you to those who worked at these events and to those who supported them. The next fundraising event is the Spaghetti Dinner on November 1st and then the Christmas Cookie Sale in December. There is more information about the Cookie Sale elsewhere in this newsletter.

DEVELOP A HEART OF GENEROSITY

Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances! --1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

Would you like to be a more generous person, possessing a generous heart? Then try embracing gratitude as a spiritual practice. Since Thanksgiving is on the 23rd of this month, November is a wonderful time to give it a try. Gratitude and generosity go together. Whether you are a millionaire or just middle-class, when you are grateful for what you have, you will likely be happier and more satisfied. You will see the world through eyes of abundance and be more likely to give of yourself. How can we embrace gratitude as spiritual practice?

Paul gives us good advice. Give thanks in all circumstances: Paul says give thanks IN all circumstances, not FOR all circumstances. In tough times, we can be grateful for what is going well and for the resources, relationships and faith that will help us through. Pray without ceasing: Pray in the shower, in your car, on the beach, on your lunch break, at a stop light, in a grocery line. God hears all your prayers. Pray nonstop. Rejoice always: Look for everyday celebrations every day. Do you have hot water? A car? Clean socks? food? Friends? Rejoice. For a disciplined approach, keep a journal of your daily thanks, or a "gratitude list" that you can pray over and revise. Keep it up and it is a good bet that your developing "attitude of gratitude" will result in you becoming more generous and seeing the world through a lens of abundance.

The Finance Committee wishes each of you an incredibly Happy Thanksgiving! Enjoy the time with family and/or friends.

Praying faith, love, and joy are yours today and always.
